Our Solution

NES' new first-floor premises were designed to accommodate a light and airy central open-plan office space, with boardroom and glazed individual offices around the perimeter. The kitchen, including a boiling water tap for efficiency, and the WC facilities, were also refurbished.

Three training rooms with HDMI connectivity to monitors, and an attractive breakout space were installed on the ground floor. With an exacting focus on design detail, the aluminium finish was matched to the corporate colours.

The entire office refurbishment project, including removal services and the provision of additional office furniture from sister company Meridian Office Furniture, was completed in just 6 weeks to meet NES' planned relocation date.
